

Tasneem Sultan formed the youth organization Connecting with Humanity to empower the next generation of leaders to create sustainable and inclusive change. She believes that today's youth are the front lines of transformation, and that their experiences today will determine how they lead our world tomorrow. Tasneem also co-founded and served as the president of La Convivencia, a nonprofit organization devoted to the ideals of coexistence, community service and dialogue. She oversaw La Convivencia's youth council, effectively engaging youth by developing social justice activities, online advocacy, and community service opportunities.

Tasneem began her activism while living in Alabama, where she was active in organizations like Interfaith Mission Services and the Arts Council of Huntsville, Alabama. When she relocated with her family to New Jersey, she served as a member of the 'United We Create Advisory Committee' of Young Audiences New Jersey and chair of the Human Relations Council of West Windsor, NJ. Currently, she is a board member of the Interfaith Round Table in Washtenaw County, MI, a member of Jewish Voices for Peace-Detroit, and also serves in the Parent & Family Intercultural Advisory Council at the University of Maryland.

In 2019, Tasneem was honored as a recipient of the Mercer County (NJ) Women of Achievement Award by the Mercer County Commission on the Status of Women. She was also recognized in New Jersey 2019 State Governor's Jefferson Honorees for Justice award.

Tasneem's faith and values motivate her commitment to equality, human rights, service, and investing in the leaders of tomorrow. Her goal in life is to inspire change that matters and to mobilize as many people as possible to speak in the name of peace, justice, and human dignity.
